Quotes for the Week

Biblical hope is the confident expectation that God is willing and able to fulfill the promises he has made to those who trust in him. The Bible refers to this as “living hope,” and it is directly linked to the work of Christ on our behalf.

Strobel, L. (2015). The case for hope: looking ahead with confidence and courage. Grand Rapids, MI: Zondervan.

Living Hope: Christians through the centuries have remained aware that they live in a time between the resurrection of Jesus Christ and the ultimate coming of the kingdom of God. Regardless what happens in the world, they are part of a future that has already begun—though it is not yet fulfilled.
