Quotes for the Week

The grace of God has appeared, “teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in the present age ... that He might ... purify for himself His own special people, zealous for good works.” The focus of these verses is “the present age” in which we now live. The grace of God is our teacher, the Greek word being akin to paidagogos, or pedagogue, a teacher of children. The grace of God tutors us in how to live victoriously over sin.

Jeremiah, D. (2005). Captured by Grace: No One is Beyond the Reach of a Loving God (Study Guide) (p. 106). San Diego, CA: Thomas Nelson Publishers.

Instead, the New Testament expects and even requires the Christian to live victoriously over sin. The Bible expects believers to live a life ordered by obedience. For example, the Apostle Peter matter-of-factly exhorts Christians to live such a life when he writes, “As obedient children, do not conform to the evil desires you had when you lived in ignorance. But just as he who called you is holy, so be holy in all you do; for it is written: ‘Be holy, because I am holy’ ” (1 Peter 1:14–16). Peter does not allow for disobedience in the life of the Christian because of the reality of indwelling sin. There are no legitimate excuses for compromise. Christians are commanded to obey God.
